

WoodSolutions Seminar

WoodSolutions Residential Timber Framing Seminar

If you design, specify, install or inspect timber framing, decorative timber and connections for residential projects, this is a must-attend event. Listen to the industry leaders and architects to be inspired, ensure your Residential Building knowledge is up-to-date, and explore the economics of timber as structural and decorative members of residential buildings.

This free WoodSolutions seminar will showcase a range of current and new innovative approaches for Residential Timber buildings.

Industry experts will provide the details needed for proper specification of residential timber buildings.

The seminar is a must for design professionals specifying residential timber including architects, building designers, engineers, building certifiers and other building and design professionals.
